ABOUT THE NEW MARKETS TAX CREDIT

The NMTC is an important source of financing for businesses and community facilities in America’s most distressed rural and urban communities. Congress authorized the NMTC in 2000 to bring down the cost of capital in communities outside of the economic mainstream. Taxpayers receive a 39 percent tax credit (taken over seven years) for qualified investments into Community Development Entities (CDEs), organizations with a track record of loans and investments in underserved areas. CDEs use the proceeds of those investments to finance business expansions, health centers, daycare facilities, business incubators, and other important revitalization projects.

ECONOMIC IMPACT

Areas Targeted	Investment, Businesses, and Projects
Eligible communities: Census tracts with poverty rates at or above 20 percent or median incomes no more than 80 percent of the area median.	Driving investment: Through Sept. 2019, the NMTC delivered over $100 billion ¹ total project financing to 6,000 projects.
Targeting concentrated poverty: In 2018, 80 percent of NMTC projects were in communities exhibiting severe economic distress. ²	Improving services: The NMTC has financed over 2,000 federally qualified health centers, schools, daycare centers, apprenticeship programs, treatment facilities, and other service providers.
Supporting rural America: In 2018, 20 percent of NMTC projects were in rural areas. ³	Jump-starting manufacturing: Over 1,400 manufacturing and industrial businesses financed.

Jobs: Through 2015, the NMTC created 1M jobs at a cost to the federal government of less than $20k per job.

Independent Evaluation of the NMTC

An independent compliance review by Summit Consulting⁴ found that program participants are significantly lowering the cost of capital for borrowers in low-income communities and exceeding statutory and regulatory requirements for the targeting of economic distress.
