

COLUMBUS HOUSING PARTNERSHIP - COLUMBUS, OHIO

Project Type

Residential/Single-family Homeownership

Investment

$9.5 million

Description

The project involves the phased construction or rehabilitation over 100 affordable single-family homes over a seven-year period in the Columbus, Ohio area. Two Columbus Housing Partnership (CHP) divisions, Homeport and the Central Ohio Housing Development Organization, are the developers of this project for which direct development costs are projected to exceed $80 million. The homes are targeted for households earning less than 80 percent of the area median income and are located in communities throughout Columbus including American Addition, North of Broad and others. The overall project is supported by the city and is a good fit with its Home Again initiative to improve city neighborhoods and increase home ownership opportunities.

Investment Type

The New Markets Tax Credit transaction provides $9.5 million in debt financing to Homeport and the Central Ohio Housing Development Organization, which will be "recycled" throughout the seven-year NMTC compliance period to construct or rehabilitate up to 700 homes over a seven-year period. Proceeds from home sales will be used to finance the next set of homes until loan maturity.

Market

Columbus is the capital of Ohio and is its largest city in both population and geographic area. Columbus has experienced rising home prices in recent years as well as deterioration and disinvestment. With over 4,100 vacant homes, the goals of Columbus' Home Again program include rehabilitating vacant properties for productive use, facilitating home ownership and preventing decline in city communities.

Community Impact

The CHP development project is helping revitalize distressed areas in communities throughout Columbus by creating home ownership opportunities. Residents of low-income communities can build financial equity and net worth by purchasing rather than renting homes which contributes to neighborhood stabilization. An ancillary benefit to the targeted Columbus communities is the creation and maintenance of construction jobs as well as service jobs and other economic activity anticipated as a result of this project.

Developer

Columbus Housing Partnership (CHP), created in 1987, is a private, nonprofit organization that provides quality affordable housing and related services to low- and moderate-income households in Columbus and the surrounding area.
